'The Lucy Lads' - Out and About Again

On Thursday, 2 April, the Lucy Lads visited the Gurdwara Sahib Sikh Temple in Leamington. This remarkable and striking building, a gilded landmark on the Leamington skyline designed and constructed by local architects and builders, was officially opened with a nine-day festival commencing 25 October, 2009. The Temple complex serves as a place of worship, a community centre and focus for community activities, a dining hall where Sikhs, and other faiths, can meet and partake of vegetarian food appropriate to their culture and religion, and as a teaching centre - enabling new generations of Sikhs to learn about their history and preserve their traditions alongside the many faiths and communities with whom they live, study and work. The building cost eleven million pounds to complete, all of which was raised by a community of just seven thousand. They did this by subscription, personal loans and endowments, and fund-raising projects. They neither sought nor received National Lottery or state funding. It is all the more remarkable when one remembers that, shortly after the project was unveiled, the UK economy slipped into one of the worst periods of economic recession for fifty years. However, of the total of eleven million pounds, 'only' four million is now outstanding, a sum which we were assured is being serviced and repaid from income. Without shoes, and with heads covered in a somewhat unorthodox fashion, the Lads were given a complete tour of the building by one of the four Trustees of the project, Resham, (Jim to his friends!), who took us into the two large prayer halls, one of which was in use at the time, and explained the significance of the Gurdwara Sahib Temple for the Sikh community, the way in which virtually the entire operation is run on a voluntary basis, and the history, background and the philosophy of the religion which created such a community. The Lads also visited the meeting rooms and state-of-the-art conference facilities, all available for hire by outside organisations, and the tour was rounded off by a visit to the dining room to sample the delicious food being served. Our group was made very welcome and it was a fascinating morning, providing an insight into a community and a religion of which I, for one, knew very little. AJW

'The Lucy Lads'

The 'Lads' are a friendly group of retired 'gentlemen' who meet informally on the first Thursday of each month at 11.30am in The Boar's Head, Hampton Lucy. There is no residential requirement, no subscription, no commitment and very few rules! Anyone with the time to spare who would like to come along will always be made welcome. From time to time we organise visits covering a wide range of interests, and there are more scheduled over the next few months. Contact me, Jeremy Whyman, for information: 01789 470911. Charlecote Village Hall Open Day

There will be another Open Day in the village hall on Sunday, 31 May, between 12 noon and 5pm, with the opportunity to see the Charlecote Wallhanging. Guided walks in the village, starting from the village hall and visiting locations featured in the tapestry panels, will take place at 12.30pm and 3pm. A new 'Tapestry Trail' leaflet is available if you prefer to be unaccompanied. Find out more about Charlecote from our Village History books. Teas will be served in the garden, and crafts and cards will be on sale. Jill W

Dear Friends,

Two slightly unusual experiences have combined this month for the subject of my letter.

Firstly, I was at a Coffee Morning recently- nothing very unusual about that - at which someone was asking other people "When in your life were you happiest?" For some people, it seems it was when their children were growing up. For someone else it was his own childhood, playing with friends. For a couple it was when they were working in a very different culture and everything was unpredictable and exciting. I struggled a bit on this. What would you say?

Secondly, as some of you are aware, we recently acquired a puppy - 'Tommy', a Border Terrier - and my wife has been taking him for walks. One of the things she has been delighted with is how many people who would otherwise probably not have spoken now engage her in conversation like an old friend. Generally, if I ask who these people were, it is the name of the dog that I am given!

to me that the common feature was the importance of relationships with other human beings. Many of the 'happiest times of people's lives' involved relationships working well; my wife's enjoyment from having a puppy was enhanced by unexpected friendly contact with new people. At their best, this sense of positive connection is something that our villages offer.

On further reflection, I thought about the fact that 'solitary confinement' - the denial of human contact - is seen as a particularly severe punishment.

That led me round to thinking about the idea that, when Jesus 'commanded' people to "love God and love your neighbour as much as you love yourself", he did so, not simply to 'give us orders', but because he knew that that was what would make us the happiest we could be. Seen from that perspective, it becomes not a bossy 'edict from on high' but rather a piece of wise advice from a good friend. And, seen in that way, perhaps it may encourage us to work at it with even more patience and determination.

As I reflected on these two unrelated experiences, it seemed

Charlecote Park News

Easter weekend threw a bit of everything at us. We had to rope off The Paddock on Good Friday as it was waterlogged, and then cope with parking all the visitors who were encouraged out to visit the Park by the Easter Monday sunshine. If you explored our Easter trails, we hope that you enjoyed the new "yellow box walk" around the parkland. By the beginning of May, all of the lambs will have been born and you may have already visited our three new Tamworth pigs behind the stables. Their antics have been entertaining visitors since they arrived at the beginning of April. There are still spaces on our 'bat walks'. Come and join the experts from the Warwickshire Bat Group for an evening out-of-hours walk, and learn all about these fascinating creatures. You can find more details on the Events Page of our website. The parterre display of bulbs is stunning and we have new volunteer garden guides this year, so if there is anything you'd like to know about the gardens and plants, do stop and have a chat with them. May is also the month to walk through the buttercups in Places Meadow, the perfect start to summer.

Wellesbourne & District Lions Club

I hope you have all had a good Easter break and enjoyed the lovely weather. The Lions would like to thank everybody who participated in our annual giant Easter Egg fundraiser. I should be in a position to let you all know how much money was raised in next month's Grapevine. The Lions are pleased to be involved in providing marshalls for this year's Stratford Festival of Motoring. It is a two day free event in Stratford-upon-Avon over the May Bank Holiday weekend, Sunday and Monday, 3 and 4 May. Our annual Wasperton to Stratford Raft Race will be taking place on Sunday, 26 July, a month later than in previous years. This year the main beneficiary will be Shakespeare Hospice, a very worthwhile charity which has helped so many in our local community. If you are interested, or know of others who may be, then please go to www.rafrace.org - our dedicated web site. If you are not feeling energetic enough to enter the race then why not put the event on your calendar and come along and enjoy this great river spectacle. If you would like to donate or provide sponsorship then again, please look at the web site. (See the notice - page 4.)

Hampton Lucy and Charlecote WI

The April meeting marked our 96th Birthday Party with a bring-and share supper, wine and, of course, a birthday cake. We had lots of visitors and our speaker, William French, gave a talk entitled 'The Life of a Butler'. William regaled us with tales and anecdotes from his work as a butler, beginning his story when he joined the Royal Navy, later travelling the world as a naval steward on board the Royal Yacht Britannia. Since leaving the Navy, he has worked with many stars and celebrities, and he brought along a wonderful selection of photographs and memorabilia. Mary Woodman won the draw for the Denman Bursary, and Helen Sill's name was on the winning slip for the Hampton Lucy representative to attend the Buckingham Palace Garden Party. Our next meeting is on 6 May at 7.30pm in Charlecote Village Hall. There will be 'Resolutions', followed by our speaker, Annie Perkins, with a talk entitled "Annie's Market Garden".

MJW

Loxley WI

On 9 April, we had an interesting talk entitled 'Wicked Women' by Graham Sutherland, a retired police officer. His well-researched examples included a suspected serial killer, fortune seeking, and marital intrigue ending in murder. Arsenic poisoning was the favourite murder weapon - it was readily available, and the cause of death would be recorded as 'gastric fever' unless suspicion led to a post-mortem. There was marked bias in law against women - the men involved were rarely prosecuted. The saddest story was the case of a fourteen year old girl taken on by a lady to work in her daughter's household, a cook being the only other servant. The young girl was not only responsible for all of the household chores, but also for the care of a baby. She would work until 3.30am, only to be up again at 5.30am. When apprehended after running away, there was no one to defend her against the lies of her mistress and she was punished with six months of hard labour! The 'lady' was a clergyman's wife! On 14 May we shall again be at Ashorne Village Hall for the annual 'Resolutions Meeting', when we shall discuss and vote on this year's resolution: "to call on the Government to remove the distinction between 'nursing care' and 'personal care' in assessing the needs of an individual"

MCI

Your Village Needs You!

A hundred years ago, British soldiers were fighting at Ypres. They were fighting against the perceived threat to democracy and freedom from the Central Powers. In 2004, over seventy five per cent of the population turned out to vote in Afghanistan after years of oppression by the Taliban. There were huge queues outside polling stations. About sixty per cent of the electorate voted in Tunisia in 2011 after the upheaval of the 'Arab Spring'. In 2014, Scotland had a turnout of over ninety per cent in the referendum about independence. Democracy is precious and very powerful. Here at Hampton Lucy on 7 May we have three simultaneous elections - Parliamentary, District and Parish - a rare experience indeed. There are seven candidates standing for election to Hampton Lucy Parish Council. In fairness to these residents who are willing to give up their time to serve the community of Hampton Lucy, please turn out and VOTE. Don't take democracy for granted. If anyone has difficulty getting to the village hall and doesn't have a postal vote, Hilary and I are happy to help - just ring 01789 842573.

Why should you complete your Hampton Lucy Neighbourhood Plan Leaflet?

The Neighbourhood Plan was created to protect the village from developers and SDC putting houses wherever they wish in our Parish. From the responses we have gathered so far, a large proportion of people in the village would like no changes at all, if this is what you want too, you should complete this form and return it asap. We are currently required to accommodate somewhere between 25 to 30 houses by 2031 and this number could rise! If the Green Belt villages are not forced to take their quota then we could be expected to take their allocation. With the delay of the approval of the Core Strategy the developers are now circling and we NEED to protect the village from development in the wrong place. If we do not have a Neighbourhood Plan in place then development could be considerably larger than 30 houses and in areas where we don't want it. Please complete and return your forms to 41/42 Church Street.

(Editor's note: This item is included at the request of the Neighbourhood Plan Committee. It is reproduced as submitted, unedited. I understand that additional leaflets will be delivered to households in the Hampton Lucy Parish.)

For the readers who use domestic heating oil, this may be of interest. It is reproduced here as received by The Grapevine.

Special Offer for New Oil Syndicate Members

As of 1 April any new Energy Warwickshire Syndicate member can take advantage of 'first order membership free'. Any household or community building not currently in the syndicate will be able to try out the service without having to pay the annual membership fee until they place their second order. (Domestic membership is currently £20 per annum.) Energy Warwickshire has seen a fantastic start to 2015 and managed to secure some great savings for members during January and February. Over 550 residents in Warwickshire are now part of the Energy Warwickshire syndicate saving considerable sums on their oil heating costs. The syndicate compiles one bulk order per month and searches the market to secure the lowest price possible for individual members. January's member price was 33.98ppl saving 14.52ppl against the market high and February's member price was 33.35ppl saving 6.8ppl against the market high. Jude Henderson Business Development Manager, WRCC says "Our members have benefitted not only from the recent drop in oil prices, but also from the steep growth in our membership numbers meaning we are placing larger and larger orders month on month. This has given the syndicate great strength in negotiating with suppliers to offer their best prices." Energy Warwickshire are now hoping to share this success more widely and want to recruit new members to the syndicate. Kim Slater Chief Exec WRCC "On average Energy Warwickshire is saving households £56.12 per oil order so we are confident you'll continue ordering once you've given it a try." Since its conception in October 2012 the Energy Warwickshire syndicate has ordered over 1.3million litres of heating oil saving members over £70,000.
